Stop at the impressive visitor center to view a variety of permanent exhibitions, which offer a glimpse into the unique nature of the Stonehenge site.

After a traditional English lunch at a local pub, survey the lesser-known site of Avebury. While Stonehenge is the most architecturally sophisticated prehistoric stone circle in the world, Avebury is the largest. Tour the extensive exhibits of royal tombs, portraits and prehistoric relics, and view the complete collection of King Tut's treasures, on display for the first time since first discovered in 1922.

Following lunch at the museum set out for a private visit to the pyramids of Giza, the only remaining Wonders of the Ancient World still standing. The Great Pyramid, 700 feet long on each side, is Egypt's largest and represents an astonishing structure completed more than 4,500 years ago. Approximately 2.3 million blocks of stone were cut, transported and assembled to create the 5.75-million-ton marvel. Its four sides are accurately oriented to the cardinal points of a compass.

Next see the Great Sphinx of Giza. This enigmatic stone carving—designed entirely from a single outcrop of limestone bedrock—depicts a lion's body with a man's face. The Sphinx faces the rising sun, and represents strength and wisdom.

No journey of the world’s iconic destinations would be complete without time in the heart of colorful India.

India’s capital city, New Delhi, offers a captivating blend of old and new—an amalgam of tombs, temples and monuments existing side-by-side amidst modern suburbs and skyscrapers.

PETRA

Drive past the Red Fort—Delhi's most iconic monument and one of several UNESCO World Heritage Sites. Massive red sandstone walls standing 75-feet high enclose a complex of palaces, gardens and a mosque.

Across the road stands Jama Masjid, one of the finest examples of Mughal architecture in India. This mosque was built by Emperor Shah Jahan, who also commissioned the Taj Mahal.

Next experience renowned Chandni Chowk, Old Delhi's main thoroughfare and oldest market—a sensory delight teeming with a myriad of goods, colors, fragrances and flavors.

Continue to New Delhi, a grand city featuring wide boulevards, manicured formal parks and notable landmarks including Rashtrapati Bhavan, the official residence of the president and India Gate, a 138-foot-tall arch that bears the names of thousands of Indian soldiers who perished in conflicts such as World War I and the Third Afghan War. Admire the arched façade of Humayun's Tomb built in the mid-16th century. This regal mausoleum is considered the architectural forerunner of the Taj Mahal.

Following lunch at a local restaurant continue the journey to Agra situated beside the Yamuna River—home to the Taj Mahal and Agra Fort, both UNESCO World Heritage Sites.

Overnight: The Oberoi Amarvilas, Agra

Day 10: Agra (B,L,D)

Depart early for a sunrise visit of the Taj Mahal. Built between 1631 and 1648 by order of the Mughal emperor Shah Jahan in memory of his favorite wife, the Taj Mahal is an immense mausoleum of shimmering white marble that appears to change color depending on the light. This complex is one of the most outstanding examples of Mughal architecture, combining Indian, Persian and Islamic influences. Strolling the grounds, admire the calligraphy, minarets and intricate lattice screens adorning the structure.

Return to the hotel for breakfast before delving into Mughal history at Agra Fort. This colossal red sandstone fortress houses exquisite palaces, mosques and halls. Get a glimpse into the lifestyle of royalty and learn about the Mughal emperors who once resided here.

Following lunch at the hotel, relish in an afternoon at leisure with extended time to take advantage of the property's magnificent five-star amenities.

For those interested, there will be another opportunity to visit the Taj Mahal this evening to capture a magical sunset.

Afterward rejoin the group at a local restaurant for dinner.

Day 11: Agra • Jaipur (B,L,D)

After breakfast and check-out, board your motor coach for the ride to Jaipur.

Known as the Pink City, this UNESCO World Heritage Site was carefully planned and arranged in a grid pattern of eight units around a central square. Its historic buildings were painted terracotta pink—a symbolic color of hospitality in honor of a visit by Prince Albert in 1876. A law passed in 1877 declared that any new buildings constructed must also bear this particular color.

Settle into your award-winning five-star hotel with time to refresh before rejoining the group for an informative lecture from a guest speaker.

Overnight: The Oberoi Rajvilas, Jaipur

Day 12: Jaipur (B,L,D)

During a panoramic city tour see the iconic Amer Fort (or Amber Fort), one of India's most well-known and frequently visited sites. Massive ramparts, successive gates and a zig-zagging cobblestone path leading up a hillside reveal four courtyards, palaces, halls and gardens.

Continue to City Palace—an impressive collection of courtyards, gardens and buildings. See structures from different eras, some dating from the early 20th century. It's a striking blend of Rajasthani and Mughal architecture, with surfaces adorned by carvings, silverwork and opulent textiles.

Adjacent to City Palace's entrance is Jantar Mantar observatory, constructed by Maharaja Sawai Jai Singh II between 1724 and 1730. Singh's passion for astronomy was even greater than his prowess as a warrior. Before construction began Singh sent scholars abroad to study foreign examples of such structures.

Jantar Mantar is the largest and the best-preserved of Singh's observatories. See what has captivated the attention of architects and art historians worldwide at this site packed full of interesting instruments.

What Guests Are Saying...

The entire experience was ELITE. Visiting Angkor Wat will stay with me for a lifetime, and is definitely something I share as a major highlight. I tell all my friends that I unexpectedly fell in love with both Siem Reap and Hanoi. The chance to experience the pyramids was pretty awesome, and the visits to Stonehenge and Avebury hold a very special place in my heart and memory. The crew was phenomenal. From first contact until the very last goodbye.
